

- it is impossible to move downed animals humanely.

- Industry experts have estimated that 90% of downed animals can be prevented with better care and handling. Removing the market for downed animals will provide an incentive to industry to prevent downed animals in the first place.

RE: docket # 98P-0151/CPI

USDA:

I am writing to urge you to pass the referenced docket. It's quite inhumane how downed animals are treated.

Thank you,
